

1035 Loyola Men Serving With Armed Forces

Pvt. Paul Boggs Reported Killed On Reich Front

Pvt. W. Paul Boggs, ex. '45, USA, was the twenty-second Loyolalumnus reported killed in action. Overseas only one month and in action only three days in Germany, Pvt. Boggs met his death on January 25 of this year.

For two years Photo Editor of THE GREYHOUND, Paul was the first of THE GREYHOUND staff to make the supreme sacrifice, and was the first member of the present Senior class to die in action. Perhaps no alumnus was closer to the present student body than he.

Entered Service In July

Exactly one week after he had completed his Sophomore year, on July 8, 1944, Private Boggs was inducted into the United States Army. He went at once to Camp Blanding, Florida, where he took his basic training.

Just before Christmas, Paul returned to Loyola to visit his classmates, and to attend one of the pre-holiday basketball games. Scarcely a month had elapsed after he had departed overseas, when the authorities informed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Boggs, of 3 Merryman Court, of his sudden death.

Graduated From Loyola High

Pvt. Boggs attended Cathedral School, Mount Washington Country School, and Loyola High, from

Strott, Meyer To Head ASN

At a meeting of the Alpha Sigma Nu held on February 23, it was decided not to re-elect new officers, but instead, due to the low membership, the offices were divided up into two sections. Under this plan, Howard Strott will be president-treasurer, and William Meyer will assume the duties of vice-president-secretary.

At the request of the Red Cross Chapter in Baltimore, the ASN has sponsored a drive at Loyola to raise a quota of $50.00 for the Red Cross. Each class will take part in the contest, and Red Cross lapel buttons and stickers will go to all those who contribute.

A poster has been put up on the bulletin board which indicates the progress of each class in the school. The drive began last week and will continue till March 15.

The members of the Honor Fraternity also endeavored to have the requirements for degrees awarded with honors to be changed to the standards of two years ago. However, since these old rules gave a loophole whereby a student could receive honors with a failure, it was decided to keep the present system.

Plans to establish an Alumni Chapter of the ASN in Baltimore are being worked out by the members.

Architects Design Memorial Chapel

Having conferred with the Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S. J., the architects, who drew up the plans for the Library and Science Building, have made the preliminary drawings for the new Memorial Chapel.

The Chapel, which will be erected at Evergreen as a memorial to all those who gave their lives in World War II, will be built on the knoll overlooking Charles Street and Cold Spring Lane. Towering above the magnificent environs, it will dominate a wide expanse of country.

In a later issue of THE GREYHOUND, the finished plans will be published.

Drive Underway For Red Cross

At present Loyola College is undertaking a Red Cross Drive to fill the $50.00 quota which was attached to the college by the Red Cross Headquarters in Baltimore.

The drive, sponsored by the members of the Alpha Sigma Nu Honorary Society, will close on March 15. So far, nearly ninety per cent of the quota has been realized.

Howard Strott, president of ASN, divided the amount among the four classes in proportion to the number of students in each year. Each student is expected to donate at least a minimum of fifty cents.

Membership cards and small Red Cross pins were distributed to the presidents of the individual classes. These will be given to each contributor. A graph is posted on the bulletin board to represent the progress of the drive.

Amended Constitution Keys Student Council's Efficiency

"In the past few weeks the Student Council of Loyola has undertaken many constructive measures to improve its efficiency and facilitate its business activities. The main step in this regard has been the new amendment to the Constitution of the Council," so affirmed Laurence Molloy, President of the Student Council.

He continued, "When the complete representation for the present academic year had been seated in the Council, the many constructive measures to be taken up during the year at once demanded a more orderly procedure. Thus the amendment and other innovations were fixed."

Orderly Procedure Sought

Molloy further explained his remarks. Article IV, Section I of the Constitution was amended so that the eighth point would be Old Business, and the ninth, New Business. The reason for this was that more time could then be devoted to old and new business after dispatching the activity reports. The remainder of the Constitution, as it appears in the Student's Handbook, was left unaltered.

Two Graduates To Be Ordained

The Rev. E. Albert Hughes and the Rev. Louis W. Quinn, two Loyola alumni soon to be ordained, will celebrate their First Solemn Masses on Sunday, March 18.

Fr. Hughes will sing his Mass in St. Elizabeth's Church, while Fr. Quinn's Mass will be held at the Blessed Sacrament Church.

They will be ordained by His Excellency, the Most Rev. Michael J. Curley, Archbishop of Baltimore and Washington, in the Basilica of the Assumption, Saturday, March 17.

Both Active At Loyola

While students here, both Father Quinn and Father Hughes were members of the Sodality and the Holy Name Society for four years. The former, a graduate of Mt. St. Joseph's High School, played on the basketball team for two years and coached the J. V. quint. Fr. Hughes was active in the Chemists Club and the Mission Unit.

After securing Bachelor of Arts degrees in 1940 from Loyola College, they entered St. Mary's Seminary that same year.

Rectors Will Deliver Sermons

Fr. Hughes attended St. Elizabeth's School, Loyola High school, and Loyola College. The Rev. William F. Maloney, S. J., professor of Theology at Loyola College, will be the sub-deacon at his first Mass, and the Very Rev. Ferdinand C. Wheeler, S. J., Rector of the Jesuit Novitiate at Wernersville, Pa., will preach.

The Very Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S. J., President of Loyola College, will address the congregation at Fr. Quinn's Mass.

To Enforce Discipline

As was announced by the Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S. J., President of Loyola, at a recent assembly, a policy is being initiated at Loyola wherein the members of the Student Council will act as monitors among the students, to see that discipline and order will be maintained on the campus and at all activities.

The rule that all new business must come through the channel of the Executive Committee will be enforced in the future also. The Executive Committee is made up of the four council officers, the Faculty Adviser and Father Rector.

Executive Committee Meets

This means that a five minute executive meeting will precede the half hour Council meeting, which begins at 12:30 p. m. on Tuesdays.

The members also agreed to give a written account of their activity and class reports to William Meyer, Secretary of the Council. These reports will thus enable him to get all the facts and information for the Council's weekly publication, The Student Council News.

430 Commissioned Officers; Twenty-two Killed In Action

One thousand and thirty-five! That is the total number of Loyola men now enrolled as members of the Armed Forces in World War II.

This is the latest tabulation by THE GREYHOUND of the number of men who have left Loyola to serve their country. Out of that number the figure twenty-two looms large. This sum represents twenty-two of these men who have laid down their lives in final sacrifice.

Of the total number in the service, 430 have the distinction of holding Commissions. This figure is forty-two percent of the overall total, and represents an increase of about nine per cent over the last service issue. The general ratio of officers to enlisted men in the Army and Navy is 18 to 1. Loyola's is better than 5 to 2.

Two Prisoners Freed

At latest count six men are missing in action, and three are prisoners of war. James McGee, ex. '40, USA, was recently freed by the liberating forces in the Philippines, and Francis R. Rittenhouse, ex. '43, USA, once a prisoner in Germany, was recently repatriated on the Gripsholm.

Among the officers, there are 254 Lieutenants, 103 Ensigns, 52 Captains, 8 Majors, 6 Lieutenant Commanders, 2 Lieutenant Colonels, 2 Commanders, and 3 Colonels.

Decorations of all types have been received by numerous Alumni.

Veterans Return

At the time of the publication of this fourth Service Issue, reports show that five men have received wounds in action. Several of the discharged veterans have returned to Loyola where they are continuing their studies.

The complete list of names of all those in the Services appears on pages four and five of this Service issue. On the third and sixth pages are reproduced the pictures of the twenty-two deceased alumni.

NFCCS Plans Radio Study

Loyola College will be the scene of the fourth regional meeting of the NFCCS, which will take place on Sunday, March 18, at 2:30 p. m. in the library building.

The paramount issue of this meeting will be "Radio". Mt. St. Joseph's College of Emmitsburg, which holds the Radio Commission of the Regional Conference, will conduct the business on the schedule.

Mt. St. Joseph's has done extensive work on this topic of Radio work and plans to study the subject to find what programs are most popular and what types of programs will afford the most interest to the average listener.

With this purpose in view they have conducted Radio polls in many of the Colleges in the Federation. These have been tabulated, and the results serve to indicate the tastes of all the Catholic Colleges participating.

Orators Meet Johns Hopkins

The Bellarmine Debating Society will engage Johns Hopkins University in a return contest of their home and home series next Tuesday evening, March 13, at Evergreen.

Meanwhile, the orators participated this week in twin debates against Johns Hopkins University and New York University.

Debate College Issue

In all three contests the same topic, the National Collegiate question, "Resolved that the Federal Government Should Enact Legislation Requiring Compulsory Arbitration of All Labor Disputes, after All Other Methods Have Failed, Constitutionally Conceded", was discussed.

In the first debate, held at Hopkins, Loyola upheld the affirmative of this topic, with Robert Hiltz and John Mudd speaking for Loyola. The same two speakers then addressed the New York University debaters, who took the negative of the question.

Loyola Upholds Negative

In the Tuesday night contest, the two schools will change sides with Frank Cashen and Thomas Lalley of Loyola talking on the negative of the National Collegiate question against the opposing affirmative speakers from the Homewood institution.

This debate will be conducted in the Recreation Room of the Loyola College Gymnasium at 8 p. m. Robert Hiltz, president of the Bellarmine Debating Society, will act as chairman.

Buchness Voted Frosh President

George Buchness was selected by the freshmen to be the president of the class for the coming year. Also at the meeting held on Monday, February 19, the other officers of the class were chosen.

Those elected were Murray Hall, vice-president; Del Hanzsche, secretary; and Edward Barrett, treasurer. The nominees, aside from those elected as officers, were John Blume, Thomas Gaudreau, and Robert Trainor.

Before this permanent election a temporary election was held so that the class might have representation with the Hazing Committee of the Sophomores.

Mythical Degree

There are many students who upon graduating should receive the added degree of Bachelor of Activities. There are many others, too many others, who would be completely ineligible for this mythical degree. Some would lack even the first credit towards such a testimonial. Both these latter groups would realize later on, to their sorrow, that they had been cheated, by themselves, when the degrees at commencement were awarded.

While no degree exists as such, yet a degree does exist under another form. It is the name and reputation that Loyola College receives for the calibre of her activities. It is one of the salient qualifications, or deficiencies, of your College.

To state the fact plainly, the degree that Loyola now holds is not enjoyed "summa cum laude." Although many different clubs and societies are functioning in many different fields of interest, the support by the students has not vindicated them.

The burden is resting on the shoulders of the faithful few. This is decidedly opposite to the purpose of each extracurricular activity at Loyola. Our aim is to achieve a full and democratic participation by every student in as many clubs as possible. Advantages outside those that the classroom can supply are to be found in activities, and these advantages are not being sought by the entire Student Body.

Let us glance at some of the clubs at Loyola. Superior to all is the Blue Star Chapter of Our Lady's Sodality, the "Must" activity for every Catholic student. Close behind it is the student publication, THE GREYHOUND. The International Relations Club, wherein current topics of import are analyzed and studied, is a definite asset to the other educational courses given here. In the field of public speaking, the Bellarmine Debating Society stands foremost as it trains the student to speak rhetorically and convincingly on his feet.

The Chemistry Club and Mathematics Club are organized for those seeking their degrees in Science. For anyone partial to the work of the stage, the Masque and Rapier Dramatic Society is particularly apt. Only those starring in the field of sports can belong to the Block L Club which counts as its members some of the greatest athletes in the history of the College. Finally the Alpha Sigma Nu, the Jesuit Honor Fraternity, is the magnetic goal for the student who is a leader in activities. For yourself and for Loyola College, YOU should enter into the spirit of the Activities.

How about it? Will YOU join—TODAY?

Director of Athletics

Loyola College

Dear Father:

Acknowledgement is hereby made of a check in the amount of $23.86 which you donated to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. I want to thank you, Miss Jeanne Reynolds, and Mr. Antonio Ristaino, for making the March of Dimes Collection on January 27 a success.

Because of the whole-hearted and continuing support of people such as you, thousands of children—once stricken by infantile paralysis—have had restored to them the priceless gift of freedom of motion. Because of your good will expressed in action, we are able to carry on this fight for health and ultimately we shall win complete victory over the Crippler.

Sincerely yours,

Basil O'Connor, President.

Dear Father Gibbons:

I'm sorry that I haven't written sooner, but circumstances just didn't permit. I have been traveling so much that I haven't had the opportunity to write.

At present, I'm now stationed in Germany. I didn't think I would get here in so short a time, but the Army does things fast.

Last Sunday I was lucky enough to serve Mass. The Chaplains over here are really tops. They perform a wonderful job—keeping the morale of the soldiers up.

I'm looking forward to reading a copy of THE GREYHOUND as soon as my first mail arrives. Not only does the paper furnish me with all of the latest news of the students' activities, but it also informs me on the manner of concluding my college education. I can't wait until I return to Loyola College and get my degree.

I have to close now since I am writing this letter under the light of a gas lamp, which is almost burnt out. Please remember me in your Masses and prayers.

Best wishes,

Cpl. Ed Hart, Jr., USA, ex. '45

ALUMNI DOINGS

By Edward A. Doehler, '30

Service Alumni

An Alumni column in this, the Service Issue of THE GREYHOUND, is almost superfluous. The long columns of the Honor Roll and the pages of pictures are sufficient indication and fit testimonial of the "doings" of the Alumni in these war-years. However, there is one thought we may add. Only with the co-operation of members and their families have the college authorities been able to collect and present this rather complete picture of the role of Loyola men in the war. Our plea is for continued cooperation. Keep us informed promptly of any service information that you may obtain about members of the Association. We can print only what we receive from you!

Alumni Reunion

Even though more than one thousand Alumni are away in war service, and in spite of the demands of war occupations on those who remain, it was still possible to have one of the largest Alumni reunions in recent history on February 13 at the Belvedere. Many faces were seen there for the first time in years. Clergymen, service-men, and men from all walks of business and professional life attended the affair. The one thought that was expressed by many was: "Where shall we find a place large enough to house the first post-war reunion?"

The banquet was a real success! Thanks to all who helped to make it what it was. Now, let's put over in a very big way the next Alumni activity—the Communion and Breakfast at Evergreen after Easter. Watch the columns of THE GREYHOUND for the date and be sure to attend.

Condolences

On behalf of the Faculty and the Student Body, THE GREYHOUND extends heartfelt condolences to Robert E. Chartrand, '44, president of THE GREYHOUND Press Club, on the death of his father on February 26.

THE GREYHOUND also extends condolences to the parents and friends of Pvt. W. Paul Boggs, USA, ex. '45, who was killed in action in Germany.

Sort of crowded out of the old kennel while this issue was going to press . . . (Some joker put in TWO rabbits to use as Easter bunnies and—well, you know how those things are.) . . . Anyway, we were turned out into the cold, cold world and picked up quite a bit of dirt:—Press conference, please note . . . We can't print it all but we'll try to sneak some of this past ye ed . . .

IMPORTED RUMORS: From good old Saint Louie we hear that the parks are dark enough for even Ed (It's the MED school that attracts me) Rehak to get lost in "for weeks" at a time . . . We bet he has a Glorious time . . . And from Washington we hear that Tom (I meet MY friends at the Hipp) Gaudreau and Jamie Ortega really painted the town a brilliant Green and Gray . . . You just spoke to the wrong person about not getting this printed, Tommy.

COME, COME, CHILDREN: It looks very, very funny to see such BIG BOYS as Lou (I don't even know her last name) Franz and Bob (Sure I remember birthdays) Hiltz playing with sling-shots . . . King size, too . . . and to see Rip (But I don' wanna play in the bucket) Roberts crying in the huddles . . . and Ralph Sybert cheering for the "Hard Rock" at those Sunday basketball games.

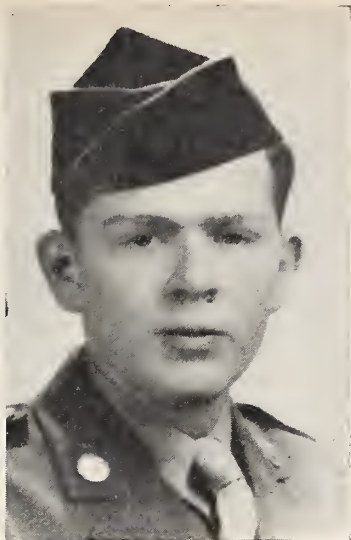

HIDE AN' SEEK DEPT.: Problem 1: Where does Dan Feeney rest all day before basketball games? Some POPular place, no doubt . . . Problem 2: Find that TOO-roving reporter, John (It wasn't my idea) Ahlers. Don't phone all night unless you learn Queenie's last name. It isn't too Long (or is it?) . . . and Problem 3: Why does Bill (Don't forget, I'll hear more of this) Meyer keep a certain pin-up on the bulletin board?

COLLECTOR'S ITEMS: Mike (This is confidential) Molloy's scrap book of "Nurse Draft" articles . . . and the secret of Tony (the Torso) Ristaino's super-occult powers . . . Uh-huh, we see, we see!! . . . and finally the way that Paul Coffay interprets the curfew 'suggestion' . . . You SHOULD be getting her in earlier now, you know.

SMASH HITS: Frank (By-line) Cashen and his brilliant repertoire . . . "Just dozing" . . . Yip, yip, yip . . . and Charles (Cutie) Kimmel's dazzling exhibition of basketball scoring . . . And he's still in preliminaries? . . . Hey coach!!! . . . and Bob (In the Monkton Limited you don't need a license) Longley who's perfected a method for the local constabulary to communicate with one another (sans aeries) . . . Try pigeons, Bob . . . or eagles.

TIMES ARE TOUGH: When the Proprietor of the Old York Road Inn, Bud Strott, has to look for some new Old Fashioned recipes . . . and when George (Peek-a-boo) Bardelman has to look through the lace curtains and . . . Oh, Georgie, we just can't go on . . . and when George (Commuter) Chilcoat has to hire a chauffeur . . . The two of them make quite an impression with the gendarmes.

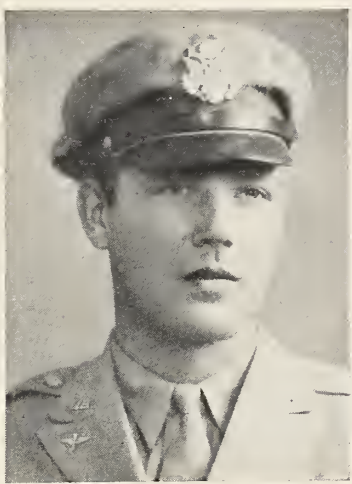

FOR GLORY SEEKING PEASANTS: We humbly offer this insignificant space to extend our belated but sincere congratulations to Jane (N.D.M. Sophomoralist) Maynes for taking such a valiant stand against those "horrible scandal-mongers", Cashen, Hiltz, Meyer, Franz, Ristaino, Heinekamp, and Coffay, who were so uncouth as to defend a poor, tired old dog. Didn't some 'gentleman' make that beautiful (and you can't sue us for this) lass happy with a "violent" phone call at 10:12 p.m.?

Running With The Hounds

By Frank Cashen

The Mason-Dixon Conference basketball tournament ran true to form as the American University Eagles waltzed off with the Conference diadem. Boasting a 12-1 record when they entered the playoffs, the Eagles became the second team in the history of the Conference to take both the league and the conference championships.

It was the first championship for the Eagles and one well deserved by Art Boyd's well coached squad.

Loyola's loss on the opening night was not considered a spectacular upset but it served to deaden any interest we had in the championships.

The orchids for this month go to an inspired Hopkins quintet which battled down to the final wire in quest of the crown. The Jays 41-32 victory over Washington College in the semifinals, was easily the classic tilt of the series. The Blue Jays knotted the game with seven seconds remaining and went on to win in the overtime period.

The basketball squad completed the season with only eight players. Bob Longley is the only senior on the squad and hence the only member who will be affected by graduation. Sid Roche and George Bardelman are juniors and will not graduate until March of '46 under the present accelerated system.

Ralph Sybert, Rip Roberts, Tom Gorman, Will Cahill and John Mudd, the remaining members of the team, are all sophomores. Sybert, however, doesn't expect to be back next year. Roberts may be lost to the armed forces before next year, but Cahill and Mudd should be here to see the season through.

The Spring program at Loyola is still in the process of formation. Baseball, track and lacrosse are still the three major springtime sports at Evergreen.

Of the three, baseball seems to have the brightest prospects as five veterans return to bolster the team's hopes. George Bardelman, Joe Bronushas, Dan Feeney, Lou Franz and Sid Roche are the holdovers. Bardelman cavorts around the keystone sack, Bronushas at third base, and Franz patrols the pastures. Feeney and Roche are both pitchers and can fill in at the outfield posts. Roche wields a particularly heavy stick and can be counted on for some extra base knocks.

Besides these, there are several other likely prospects enrolled in the College. Tom Gorman, who played four years of varsity baseball in high school and has a couple of years of sandlot experience behind him, should be able to take over the catching duties.

Ralph Sybert, who has had several years of sandlot experience, will probably take over one of the infield spots. Ray Bevans will be around to help out with the pitching chores.

Tom Gaudreau, freshman, covered the hot corner for a local high school nine last season, and led the Maryland Scholastic league in unofficial batting averages. A hustler and a power hitter, Tom should fit in well with the Greyhound infield combination.

With lacrosse and track the outlook is not so bright. Only four veterans are returning to the lacrosse team. Bud Strott, Charley Meagher, Bob Longley and Jim MacDonald are the stickmen returning for a second try at the old Indian game.

Track will be seeking a rebirth at Loyola after a one year layoff in Mason-Dixon Conference competition and experienced material is nil.

The Greyhounds also boasted a tennis and a golf team last spring but so far there is little likelihood of either sport.

Hounds' Rally Tops Terrors In Cage Tilt

Loyola stormed from behind in the last canto of a savagely fought contest to whip the Western Maryland Terrors, 47-45.

Paced by robust Sid Roche, who tallied nineteen points, plus some timely baskets by Rip Roberts and Bill Cahill, the Hounds came from behind with but seven minutes remaining in the game.

Terrors Gain Early Lead

The Terrors jumped to an early lead and ran up ten points before Roche's one hander from the corner of the court gave Loyola its first tally. But Western Maryland kept up the pace and at halftime held a 28-19 advantage.

In the second half, the Hounds spurred to draw up even with the Terrors.

Hounds Shatter Zone

The Green and Gray cut the Western Maryland zone to threads as Roche's effective field goals from the outside drew the zone way out and allowed the fast-thinking Loyola team to slide inside for lay-up shots.

Blue Jays Topple Greyhounds, 39-27

Loyola bowed to an improved Johns Hopkins quintet as the Blue Jays rolled over the Hounds, 39-27. The Jays swept to an early lead and though the Hounds came back to forge ahead, the Jays were not to be denied and again took over the lead. Hopkins held a 22-12 halftime lead.

Mike Gold was the big gun for the Hopkins quint as he tallied thirteen points. Paul Mitros, Hopkins' freshman star, was held pointless in the initial half as Sid Roche closely guarded him.

Eagles Take M-D Crown Defeating Jays, 70-36

The high-flying Eagles of American University trampled Johns Hopkins, 70-36, in the finals of the Mason-Dixon Conference basketball tournament. It was the first time the Eagles have won the championship and the second time in the history of the conference that a team has won both the league race and the playoffs. The Greyhounds were the only other team to capture the double crown, having turned the trick in 1942.

Seeded Teams Win

The first night saw the four seeded teams win. American U. tripped Randolph Macon, 48-34; Bridgewater turned back Western Maryland, 71-56; Washington College nicked Loyola, 46-33; and Johns Hopkins dropped Gallaudet, 33-22.

In the semifinals, American U. checked Bridgewater, 59-55, and Hopkins nosed out Washington, 41-32, in a thrilling overtime classic.

The Washington-Loyola game was easily the outstanding contest of the opening night.

Washington Leads At Half

Though hampered by lack of reserve strength, the Hounds managed to stay within striking distance of the Shoremen during the first half, as the two teams battled furiously. Washington led at the rest period, 21-18.

However, in the last chapter, it was an entirely different story as the sky-scraping Washington team assumed control of the rebounds and began to hit the cords from all angles. Sid Roche, however, emerged as the high scorer, garnering fifteen points.

Birds Sign Former Greyhound Catcher

Paul "Knobby" Harris, potent catcher of last year's Greyhound nine, has been signed by the Baltimore Orioles. Knobby, who batted in the clean-up spot for Loyola, had high individual batting average for the team.

In facing all types of competition last year and frequently batting against former big league stars, who were performing with service teams, Knobby compiled a reputable .333 average.

Harris withdrew from Loyola at the end of the last semester and entered the University of Baltimore Law School. In his last year here he was a member of the basketball team, playing on the second string varsity until he withdrew from school.

La Salle Trips Loyola Quintet

La Salle College of Philadelphia handed the Greyhounds a 59-44 defeat on the La Salle court, as they dropped the Hounds for the second time this year. Previously the Philadelphians topped Loyola 82-42.

The first half was give-and-take as the two teams battled furiously for every point. Both teams used a man-for-man defense with the Explorers making use of a fast-break system of play.

La Salle made the majority of their baskets via lay-up shots while the Hounds were marking up their tallies from the outside.

La Salle led at the intermission, 23-22.

In the concluding half the Explorers gradually drew ahead as the Loyola quintet tired visibly. La Salle poured in fresh substitutes and coasted to a 59-44 victory.

Foreign Correspondent Reports:

Artistic Grandeur Seen In Florence

By Pvt. Raymond Whitehead, USA

Florence is situated on a small valley floor surrounded by high hills. About three-fourths of the city is on the north side of the Arno River. It is the home of the Renaissance, and the mainspring of the art movement of that period.

Gothic Cathedral

The Cathedral is in the Gothic style. The dome, built by Brunelleschi, is 300 feet high, and is a dominating feature of the city. It is held in place by great chains set about its base. Various hued marbles are used on the exterior. The facade is very ornate in detail of architecture and sculpture, and the profuse carving astounds the eyes. The interior of the Cathedral is rich with masterpieces, among them being Michelangelo's last and unfinished sculpture, the "Pieta."

Adjoining the facade is the Campanile or Bell Tower of Giotto, in the same style. Opposite the facade is the Baptistery of San Giovanni.

In the Piazza della Sognoria, where Savonarola was burned at the stake, is the Palazzo Vecchio.

Passing the palace, one comes to the Uffizi Galleries. Nearby is the Bargello, which is at present the National Museum. It contains works by Michelangelo, Donatello, Verocchio, and Benvenuto Cellini.

Some Shops Destroyed

Turning right on the Via Arno, we reach the Ponte Vecchio. Some of the shops have been reopened, and offer jewelry and souvenirs for sale. People flow to and fro continuously throughout the day, but the sight of the rubble buildings on the farther side disturbs the eye.

On the south side of the Arno is the Palazzo Pitti, a black and formidable giant. In utter contrast are the beautiful Boboli Gardens in the rear, while on the corner is the house where Elizabeth Barrett Browning lived and died while she was in Italy.

The house of Galileo is on the steep street that skirts the Boboli Gardens.

On the hill of San Miniato is the Piassale Michelangelo with a huge reproduction of his David sculpture overlooking Florence. There is a beautiful view of the city from this vantage point. Higher up is the fort constructed by the great sculptor for the defence of Florence.

The houses of Dante, Michelangelo, and Amerigo Vespucci are all on the north side of the river.

The palaces of Florence are grim and unadorned on their exteriors. They were meant to be sturdy and defensible.

Famous Churches

Florence is fertile with its wealth of churches and the masterpieces of art that they contain. Santa Novella is second in importance to the Cathedral. It contains paintings and frescoes by Duccio, Ghirlandaio, Lippi, Orcagna, and Ussello. It is the great church of the Dominicans.

Santa Croce is the church of the Franciscans. It contains the tomb of Michelangelo by Vasare; the tabernacle with the Annunciation by Donatello; frescoes by Giotto; and the tomb of Carlo Marsuppini by Desiderio da Settignano.

In the monastery of San Marco are frescoes by Fra Angelico and Fra Bartolomeo.

Art of Michelangelo

The church of San Lorenzo also has its share of art pieces: the old chapel by Brunelleschi, the new sacristy and library by Michelangelo, reliefs on the bronze pulpit by Donatello, and the tombs of Guilio and Lorenzo II de Medici on which appear the extraordinary figures of Night and Day, Dawn and Twilight.

The famous fresco of the Last Supper by Ghirlandaio is in the refectory of the monastery of Ognisanti. Perugino's "Crucifixion" is in the chapel of Santa Maria Maddalena dei Pazzi.

One can't help but carry a lasting impression of this beautiful city in his mind. There is always the urge to return.

T'es le bienvenu, vieux frère... Have a Coke

(GREETINGS, OLD MAN)

...a way to show friendship to a French sailor

Even foreigners visiting our shores for the first time respond to the friendliness in the phrase Have a Coke. There's the good old home-town American spirit behind it... the same as when you serve Coke at home. Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes, — has become a bond of sympathy between kindly-minded folks.
